Jurisdiction

1. The jurisdiction of this Court is invoked pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1343, 1367, 2201 and 2202 and 29 U.S.C. §216(b). 3. The Defendant Hudson Products Corporation is an employer as defined by the ADEA at 29 U.S.C. § 630(b), Title VII at 42 U.S.C. §2000e(b) and the TCHRA at §21.002(8). Further, Defendant is an employer that engages in commerce and/or is an enterprise that is engaged in commerce and is therefore covered by the FLSA. Defendant is a Texas corporation and may be served with process through its registered agent for service of process at Corporation Service Company d/b/a CSC-Lawyers, Inc., 211 East 7th St., Suite 620, Austin, TX 78701.

4. At all times material hereto, Plaintiff was an employee, as contemplated within the ADEA at 29 U.S.C. § 630(f), Title VII at 42 U.S.C. §2000e(f), and the TCHRA at §21.002(7). At all times material hereto, Plaintiff is and was at least forty (40) years of age. Plaintiff’s date of birth is March 29, 1960.

Venue

5. Venue is appropriate in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §1391 in that the Plaintiff and Defendant reside in this Judicial District and/or a substantial part of the events or omissions giving rise to the claim occurred in this Judicial District. Furthermore, the Defendant maintains sufficient business contacts in one or more counties comprising this Judicial District and the Houston Division.

Facts

6. Wilson's seniority with Defendant, including the predecessor company, dates back to 1991.
7. Wilson held the Human Resources Manager position for approximately 8 years until it was taken away from her in on or about May 27, 2014.
8. Wilson's most recent Employee Appraisal signed by her Manager in December 2013 states that she is "Highly Valued and...on a stable growth trend."
9. Wilson received a positive addendum to her 2013 evaluation in February 2014.
10. In March 2014, Wilson's supervisor was replaced by DeWayne Youngberg (General Counsel and Chief Compliance Officer). Wilson then reported to Mr. Youngberg.
11. Around the time that he became Wilson's supervisor, Mr. Youngberg made various comments about her age.
12. By way of example, upon information and belief, around March 2014, Mr. Youngberg commented that he wanted to replace Wilson, and that it would probably be with "someone younger."
13. By way of example, one comment was made by Mr. Youngberg on or about April 9, 2014, where he said that working through the pain "may be ok for young people, but not for someone (her) age."
14. By way of example, Mr. Youngberg made another comment on or about April 29, 2014 about Wilson and a co-worker being "two married old Women."
15. Upon information and belief, around April 2014, Defendant's Director of Operations, stated that Defendant needed "someone younger" in reference to a conversation about Wilson.
16. Soon after Mr. Youngberg became Wilson's supervisor, Miguel Quiroga was hired into the department, and assumed Wilson's responsibilities of recruitment.

17. Upon information and belief, in May 2014, Defendant's Director of Operations stated that it was better to have a guy, in respect to Mr. Quiroga's hiring, because he gets along better with the guys.

18. Then, Defendant started stripping away most of Wilson's duties on or about May 27, 2014, giving most<sup>1</sup> of them to Mr. Quiroga and Edgar Lizama, and took away all of her supervisory responsibilities where she was made a benefits administrator, but told her title remained as Human Resources Manager.

19. Her direct reports and Wilson were also told around this time that they were to report to someone else.

20. Although Wilson was demoted to that of a Benefits Administrator, her exempt status was not changed to being non-exempt.

21. While Wilson was a non-exempt employee, she was paid a salary.

22. Because Wilson is a non-exempt employee, Defendant is required to pay her at one and one half times her regular rate of pay for those hours worked in excess of forty in a single workweek. 29 U.S.C. § 207(a).

23. However, Wilson has not been compensated for the hours worked in excess of forty hours per week at one and one half times her regular rate of pay during such time that she was non-exempt.

24. Rather than being paid at the statutorily required time and one half for each hour worked in excess of forty in a workweek, Wilson was only paid her salary for all hours worked.

25. Mr. Quiroga, and Mr. Lizama, in addition to being Men, are substantially younger than

Wilson.

26. In or around July 2014, during open enrollment for insurance, Mr. Youngberg approved and was present for the statement made to management that Defendant was going to make an effort to hire younger people because the health insurance benefits premiums were getting higher due to its aging workforce.

27. Ultimately, Mr. Quiroga formally replaced Wilson as the HR Manager in late August 2014.

28. Defendant terminated Wilson on or about August 27, 2014.

29. It is also no coincidence that Defendant either terminated, in addition to Wilson, or asked older employees to resign resulting in approximately five (5) or more older employees separating from Defendant.

30. Upon information and belief, one of Defendant's Vice Presidents had made a number of ageist comments, including but not limited to wanting to get the "old guys out of here" and to "get fresh young faces." He also said that some of the employees have been there "too long," that they are "too old," and that you "can't teach an old dog new tricks."

31. Upon information and belief, Defendant's Director of Operations, stated that one of the older employees, does not get it because he is "too old" and that he would find someone younger.

32. Upon information and belief, one of Defendant's Vice Presidents and its Director of Operations commented about a few older employees in their 60s who were "too old" and that they needed to "get rid of [him] and get someone younger."

47. Defendant's conduct was willful.

49. Additionally, Plaintiff is entitled to an amount equal to all her unpaid wages as liquidated damages, as well as reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of this action. 29 U.S.C. 216(b).

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays that this court advance this cause on the docket, order a speedy hearing at the earliest practicable date and cause this case in every way to be expedited and
